

Meet our Ambassador... Sierra Longmoore

In July of 2020, Sierra fell victim to a car crash leaving her with a severe traumatic brain injury among many other injuries. She miraculously survived and now strives to help other survivors through Unmask the Invisible.

"Through this organization I hope to pay forward all the opportunities and support I have been given."

Paint It Forward
a program of
The Sierra Project

Thank you for participating in this art adventure! Through artwork, participants can convey their thoughts, emotions, and perspectives in a way that transcends language barriers. By using colors, shapes, and forms, artists can give a voice to their innermost feelings.

By sharing our creative expressions with the world, we not only enrich our own lives but also have the opportunity to inspire and engage those who are on a similar journey.

President's Message

Dear Friends,

As we embark on our fourth fiscal year of service, we would like to acknowledge the numerous individuals who have both supported and received support from our organization. Their dedication and trust have been instrumental in our growth and success. We are immensely grateful for the partnerships we've formed and the communities we've impacted together. Over the past three years, we've witnessed remarkable stories of resilience and hope, and these experiences continue to inspire us to strive for even greater achievements.

Looking ahead, we are eager to build on this solid foundation. Our dedication remains unwavering: to deliver innovative resources, promote inclusivity, and cultivate active participation in our programs.

We invite everyone to join us in this journey, as we aim to make a positive difference in even more lives. Together, we can create lasting change and a brighter future for all survivors and their loved ones.

We believe that by working collaboratively, we can overcome challenges and seize opportunities that lie ahead. Our strategic initiatives for the coming year include expanding our outreach programs, enhancing our support services, and investing in and strengthening our educational workshops, ensuring that they are accessible and impactful for all participants.

In addition, we are committed to transparency and accountability in all our operations. Regular updates and open communication with our stakeholders will be key as we navigate this exciting new chapter. We encourage feedback and ideas from our community, as your voices are invaluable in shaping the future of our organization.

Thank you for your continued support and belief in our mission. Together, let's forge a path forward that is filled with hope, opportunity, and shared success.

With gratitude, Amy
